

UN Role in Congo Rapped by Kasavubu

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations today published a hitherto secret cable from Congo President Joseph Kasavubu assailing the U.N. role in the troubled African country. He accused the U.N. command of encouraging the supporters of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba by blocking his arrest and prosecution.

Kasavubu's charges were made to Ambassador Frederick H. Boland, president of the General Assembly, in a message dated Oct. 13. In other cables to Boland, the Congo president protested proposals now pending to have the assembly seat a delegation representing Lumumba.

The disclosure of the messages came 24 hours after Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld laid before the assembly a report of his special Congo representative, Rajeshwar Dayal, blasting the army regime of Col. Joseph Mobutu, who is working with Kasavubu.

In his report Dayal said the office of the chief of state, occupied by Kasavubu, was one of the Congo institutions which had remained unshaken in the turmoil which has gripped the country since it won its independence from Belgium last July.

In one message, Kasavubu charged that two of the Congo's African neighbors, Ghana and Guinea, are bringing anarchy to the Congo by supporting Lumumba. The two countries are among those backing the proposal to seat the Lumumba representatives in the U.N.

"They are accessories to murders and massacres of the civil population in the Congo followed by epidemics which are decimating it," he said.

Kasavubu was especially bitter at the U.N. command for preventing the arrest and prosecution of Lumumba. He called the U.N. action "interference in the internal affairs of his country."

By offering forcible opposition," he said, "the United Nations is directly conspiring at crimes under the ordinary law and is indirectly encouraging Lumumba's few supporters to continue acts of banditry and terrorism."

Kasavubu praised the Mobutu regime of young college technicians. They are "as competent as they are devoted to the public service."

Dayal charged that Belgian nations are trying to dominate Mobutu's commissioners and seeking to "exclude or obstruct" U.N. technical assistance and influence.

Both Belgium and the Soviet Union are expected to assail the secretary-general when the report comes up for debate in the assembly Monday.

Belgian delegate Walter Lorian declined to comment on Dayal's report but indicated his government would have plenty to say when the issue hits the assembly floor. Lorian said Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny probably would fly here to speak.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said he had not studied the report fully. But sources close to the Soviets said he would demand to know why Hammarskjöld had not done something about conditions in the Congo if they are as bad as Dayal's report indicates.

Dayal's report put the United States in a ticklish position since the chief targets were Belgium, a NATO ally, and Mobutu, an anti-Communist Washington had hoped looked to as an alternative to Soviet supported Patrice Lumumba, the Congo premier deposed by Mobutu.

Top officials in Washington considered the denunciations of Belgium and Mobutu to sweeping and unnecessarily harsh.

Nixon Ends His South Visit in Blast at Foe

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, concluding a final foray into the South, blasted away at Senator John F. Kennedy again today, this time as an enemy of state's rights.

In this area of states rights zealots, Nixon, the Republican candidate for president, told a police-estimated crowd of from 8,000 to 10,000 in Burpelt Park, that the Democrats could "vote every tombstone in Texas but we are still going to lick 'em."

Nixon added that the Democrats "have been kicking Texas in the teeth long enough."

The early morning turnout for Nixon in clear, pleasant weather compared with a police estimate of about 8,000 in the crowd, which greeted Kennedy at a late morning rally here several weeks ago.

Nixon accused Kennedy of changing his mind on a great many issues, and touched off a roar of applause in declaring: "I say we can't have a jumpin' jack as president of the United States."

Nixon flew on for a tour of the West, his first stop being Casper, Wyo. He also will speak at Spokane, Wash., and Fresno, Calif.

Nixon hit hard at the tidal waves question saying that Kennedy has not supported state ownership of tidelands. Nixon said on oil depletion he favored the 27 1/2 per cent allowable and declared oilmen "are not going to take a chance on him (Kennedy) when they know what I am going to do."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said he had not studied the report fully. But sources close to the Soviets said he would demand to know why Hammarskjöld had not done something about conditions in the Congo if they are as bad as Dayal's report indicates.

Jury Debates the Fate of Mrs Shinn

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Naomi Shinn, 47, of Kansas City, was convicted today of voluntary manslaughter for the fatal shooting of her policeman lover last June 16.

The trial jury set punishment at five years imprisonment.

Mrs. Shinn heard the verdict without apparent emotion.

Her attorneys indicated they would appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Mrs. Shinn had been tried for first degree murder for killing Francis Hollman, also 47, of Kansas City, at a fishing cabin near here.

The jury reduced the charge.

A verdict was reached after the jury of five women and seven men had deliberated about 7 1/2 hours.

The jurors reported Thursday night they were unable to agree after six hours.

They were excused overnight, and resumed deliberations this morning.

The prosecution had qualified the jury for the death penalty but made no plea for it in final arguments.

Testifying in her own defense, Mrs. Shinn said she shot Hollman, with whom she admitted a 10-year love affair, after they quarreled and he beat her and then started toward her with a hunting knife.

A doctor testified that it appeared Mrs. Shinn had been beaten the day of the slaying.

Hollman's brother, Leo and the latter's wife, Pearl, were called as state's rebuttal witnesses yesterday Wednesday. Mrs. Hollman said Mrs. Shinn once told her she loved Francis Hollman and would kill him rather than lose him to some other woman.

Leo Hollman said his brother was a mild-mannered person and was not a heavy drinker. He said he did not know Francis Hollman had been divorced on grounds he drank heavily and beat his wife.

The prosecuting Attorney's Office today warned the public to be on the lookout for a person, or persons, posing as Health Department officials.

The person then demands a certain amount of money, generally around $20. Any such instances should be reported immediately to your local law enforcement officials.

The newspaper said it learned of the background of the flight from "the very best sources" and the story was confirmed in some details by the theft of a plane from its hangar at Fort Pierce Monday night.

The News said that last Saturday Paul Hughes, 31, former volunteer in Fidel Castro's revolutionary air force, who broke with the Cuban leader over communism, met with Jay Hunter, 28, in Miami.

Sees Barges on Arkansas River Soon

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas gets behind the Arkansas River development program, barges can be plying the river in five years, the executive vice president of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

Boyd Ridgeway told delegates to the first Community Growth Conference here that federal funds can be provided to do the work necessary much sooner than the 1970 target date.

"We could have navigation on the river in five years if we could convince the whole country it is needed," Ridgeway said.

He said Little Rock and Pine Bluff have tremendous possibilities contingent on the development of the river.

"I defy anyone to prove that the potential of these cities is not greater in every way than Fort Worth and Dallas potentials were several years ago," he said.

He was one of 12 speakers on the program. About 75 persons involved in industrial and commercial growth and development attended.

The jury reduced the charge.

Will Defend Dollar Value, Kennedy Says

By RELMAN MORIN

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy told Virginia audiences today that he will defend the value of the dollar if elected president.

"Let me make it clear," Kennedy said in his speech prepared for delivery in Virginia, "I commit myself and my party to a sound fiscal policy in the 1960's."

Kennedy began the last-minute drive scheduled to take him through Virginia, Ohio, Illinois and to New York City today.

A howling, surging crowd of more than 10,000 cheered Kennedy at Granby High School in Norfolk. Democratic officials told Kennedy that, in spite of reports to the contrary, they have every expectation that he will carry Virginia.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was among those who spoke.

Kennedy told the crowd he could not believe that Virginia, "the home of the Democratic Party," would vote for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

As before, he compared Nixon to President William McKinley and former Republican candidates Alfred M. Landon and Thomas E. Dewey.

Kennedy attacked the Republican administration for what he termed unsound economic policies.

"The failure of our present economic policies has become increasingly evident in the past few months as the danger signals of economic weakness have begun to mount," he said.

Kennedy said "the danger signals" indicate that the country "may be entering our third major recession in six years. Growing unemployment and declining production tend to confirm this prophesy."

Kennedy laid out a financial policy in his Virginia appearances.

"We do not intend to devalue the dollar from its present rate. We will defend its value and its soundness," he said; a balanced budget is his goal. "We will place less reliance on the high-interest rate policy—which has been a major contribution to our current rate of business failure, the highest since the great depression," and a large-scale effort will be made to increase the rate of economic growth.

Kennedy was virtually mobbed when he left the speakers' platform. The crowd surged around his car, blocking the streets, and the police had great difficulty in getting him through.

Khrushchev Ousted in Soviet Shakeup, Austria Rumors Say

East German Party Purge Is Reported

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — All the 1 1/2 million members of the Communist party in Red-ruled East Germany were ordered today to turn in their cards. This looked like a full-scale purge.

Since last summer, the lower ranks of the party leadership have been undergoing a shift. One Communist organ estimated 20,000 minor officials have been fired or transferred. Now all party members are to get a going-over.

"The exchange of cards," said the leadership, "will fortify the role of the party as the advance guard of all the working people."

The announcement was published in large type and without comment in the official party daily Neues Deutschland as a decision of the Central Committee affecting all members and candidates for membership.

It was dated Nov. 1.

New cards will be distributed to holders from Dec. 1. Old cards will become invalid Jan. 1.

All members and candidates are required to attend two mass meetings, one to be held before Dec. 11 and the other sometime in January. The meetings are to discuss improving party work with the masses—especially where youth is concerned.

It seems likely that members, especially those who have not been to active, will be reminded at the first meeting that the party expects more of them. The second meeting would provide an opportunity to see if the slacker have taken the warning to heart.

Western experts familiar with Communist party practice suggested that the object may be to get additional work out of the less enthusiastic and to fire those considered altogether unworthy.

It is a chronic complaint that the party contains many careerists. "These are people who join simply to get ahead in their regular jobs, and neglect the party's endless round of meetings and propaganda activities."

Anti-Inflation Is Fight Talk

SANTIAGO Chile (AP) — Two persons were killed and more than a score injured during demonstrations Thursday night as President Jorge Alessandri was explaining his anti-inflation fight over a nationwide radio broadcast.

Labor unions have been assailing Alessandri for months for refusing to grant wage increases. He did propose a 10 per cent wage increase two weeks ago but he withdrew it when unions complained it was not enough to keep even with rising living costs.

Alessandri said during his broadcast that any sizable increase would send inflation spiraling higher again.

Dogs Didn't Like That Lamp Post

LONDON (AP) — Along the seaside promenade at Worthing, a Sussex resort, a man came walking his dog.

Dog stopped at a lamp post, sniffed yelped and frothed at mouth. Tried to bite its owner.

Along the promenade came a woman with her dog. Dog sniffed at the lamp post yelped, frothed at mouth.

Rumor flew. Alarm grew. "Babel!" asked some.

When a fourth dog reacted the same way, one watcher investigated. The steel lamp post was "live," leaking electricity. A city electrician went to work.

Shortly after, a passing dog demonstrated the trouble had been corrected.

Gophers Are Problem on Some Farms

Are pocket gophers a problem on your farm? If so, you may want to attend a demonstration designed to rid a farm of gophers said County Agent Calvin Caldwell. The demonstration will be held Monday, Nov. 7 at 1:30 p.m. on the Finis Odom farm located 3 miles east of Pulaski.

The demonstration involves the use of a tractor drawn burrow-builder. It has as its function the building of artificial gopher runs in which poisoned bait is distributed. The burrow-builder is capable of giving 95-100% control and approximately 50 acres can be covered per day.

Luther Burchfield with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service brought the machine to Hempstead from Louisiana. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will furnish enough poisoned grain for this demonstration.

The gopher burrow builder will be in Hempstead for about two weeks. Any farmer interested in using this machine should contact the county agent. Bait will be available from the Wildlife Service at a small cost to the farmer.

The version of the newspaper Abend-Press was that Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, former defense minister purged by Khrushchev, had been restored to that post.

It listed Lazar M. Kaganovich as president and Dmitri T. Shepilov, former foreign minister, as restored to that post. Mikhail A. Suslov, party secretary, was said to be continuing in that post.

Shepilov and Kaganovich were purged at the same time Molotov and Malenkov were ousted from Russia.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Rumors of an anti-Khrushchev coup in Moscow swept Vienna today but there was no confirmation from any source. Moscow correspondents reported the capital calm.

Western officials were skeptical that the Soviet Union's "uniparty group" had been able to take over, as the rumors had it.

Malenkov, who succeeded Khrushchev, was said to be continuing in that post.

The rumors said former Premier George M. Malenkov has taken power and that Nikita S. Khrushchev was ousted from power.

Try to Bomb Havana Fails to Come Off

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two young Americans set out Halloween in a stolen plane from Fort Pierce, Fla., to bomb Havana, the Miami News said today. They never arrived.

In a copyright story by Hal Hendrix, Latin-American editor, the News said "two youthful American soldiers of fortune whose mission could have shaken the hemisphere far beyond the explosive power of their homemade bombs, are now missing."

The story continued: "Their was to have been a dramatic stake of revenge for the summary execution of three Americans and 15 Cubans by the Castro government."

"They had even printed the names of the three Americans on the bomb casings that they filled with black powder and scrap iron. They carried a dozen 'Molotov cocktails,' too."

Whether their plane went down at sea, fell into Castro hands, crashed or landed in a remote area of Cuba or some other island is a question still to be answered, the News added.

Bookmakers Confused
in Nevada
CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) —
News of a forgotten state law against election bets has thrown Nevada bookmakers into confusion—and stopped wagers on the presidential race.
"The biggest question: What to do with all the money already bet on Democratic John F. Kennedy and Republican Richard M. Nixon.
Bookies had been doing a thriving business on the race for president.
But while Nevada has legalized
just about all forms of gambling, a 1919 law bans any type of bet on any election.
"I quit," was the response of a Reno odds-maker. He promptly pulled down all signs quoting election odds.
In Las Vegas, all eight race books erased their odds before a news story about the forgotten law hit the streets.
Public officials were slower to react.
Atty. Gen. Roger Foley said the law was a problem for local authorities. Gaming Control Board Chairman Ray Abbaticchio agreed.
But in Reno, Dist. Atty. William Ruggio said he had heard no complaints and didn't think the law was practical anyway "in view of the present status of gambling in this state."
Acting Las Vegas Police Chief
George Allen Jr. issued an order forbidding any more election bets, but word of the old law seemed to be enough.
Bookies disagreed on what to do with the bets they hold.
"We're going to pay the winners and collect from the losers," one said. "That's the only way to do it."
"I don't see how we could go ahead," said another. "If a man lost his money and discovered the bet was illegal he'd try to get it back."
No one seemed to know how much money was involved.
As the bookies closed election operations, the odds were still 8 to 5 for Kennedy and 6 to 5 for Nixon.

Melekh, head of the Russian language section in the offices of conference services of the U.N. secretariat, and Willie Hirsch, a German-born medical illustrator, were arrested by the FBI last Thursday.
The two are charged with seek-
graphs of Chicago. They have been held in $50,000 bail pending a hearing.
A representative of the Soviet Embassy at Washington appeared before U.S. commissioner Earle N. Bishopp today and sought to post the bail for Melekh's release.
U.S. Atty. S. Hazard Gillespie Jr. objected on the grounds that under an order signed by U.S.
Dist. Judge John C. Knox, Gillespie must approve before any bail is accepted.
He said that in this case he objected to the bond being posted.
The commissioner upheld him and turned down the bail offer.

DON'T BE DECEIVED BY "MINIMUM WAGE"

RATE OF PAY MEANS NOTHING IF YOU ARE OUT OF WORK!

In the November General Election the voters of Arkansas will be urged to approve an "Arkansas Minimum Wage Act." This legislation seems to offer benefits to certain laboring people of Arkansas. The Arkansas Minimum Wage Act is DECEPTIVE. It will bring hardship to thousands of workers. It will slow down the progress of our State. It will hurt all of us. Below are just a few of the harmful results that would follow enactment of a "minimum wage" law:

A "MINIMUM WAGE" Law Will Bring Unemployment

Any employer forced to increase his operating costs must either raise prices or lay off workers to meet that increase. A recent survey of small business-men throughout the State shows that there are some 365,000 salaried wage earners who would be affected by the proposed law. It is estimated that 15% of that number would lose their jobs. This means 54,750 people OUT OF WORK! The majority of these would be handicapped employees, stu-dents, older persons and part-time workers who depend on their part-time earnings to bolster income from pensions or social security.
The new law would exempt firms employing less than three workers. Approximately one-third of the small businessmen interviewed employ three to four workers. These employers said they plan to discharge one or two workers in order to exempt their business from provisions of the proposed law, if it is enacted. This means that unemployment will be felt in every section of the State—not just in the larger cities.
Large business operations, providing jobs for many workers, have stated they will be forced to adopt a streamlined "self-service" type of operation if the law is passed, thus eliminating many of their less efficient employees. More than 80% of the small businessmen interviewed said they would be forced to eliminate part-time workers if the minimum wage proposal becomes law.

A "MINIMUM WAGE" Law Will Mean Higher Prices

The employer unable to reduce his working force MUST raise prices to cover his increased operating costs. All of us know the evils of inflation. All of us are tired and disgusted with constantly rising prices. A minimum wage law would force HIGHER PRICES on a great variety of items, most of them classified as essential, basic needs.

A "MINIMUM WAGE" Law Will Drive Away New Industry

Arkansas has made great progress in securing new industries. This progress is the result of our willingness to maintain a favorable, inviting business climate. A "minimum wage" would be a black cloud on our business horizon. Remember, we are not alone in the drive for new industry. We are com-peting with other States every hour of the day. Are we to throw progress aside by adopting a law which will send outside industries to neighboring States which have no such minimum wage law?

A "MINIMUM WAGE" Law Will Increase Our Population Losses

Since World War II only three States in the nation have LOST population. Arkansas is one of the three. The answer to this challenge is NOT a "minimum wage" law. The answer is MORE INDUSTRY to provide MORE JOBS. We MUST bolster our basic agricultural economy with a new industrial economy if we are to bring a halt to dwindling population.

A "MINIMUM WAGE" Law Will Create a Dictatorship

Political stability is another key factor in influencing outside industry to choose Arkansas for a plant site. The proposed "Minimum Wage" Act would create a dictator in the form of a politically-appointed Labor Commissioner. Under the proposed law, the politically-appointed Commissioner or his repre-sentative would have the power to enter and inspect any place of business in the State for the purpose of examining records, registers, payrolls AND OTHER BUSINESS DOCUMENTS. Apparently, there are NO RESTRIC-TIONS in the Labor Commissioner's right to pry into any employer's business records!
He would be empowered to copy records and documents and to question employees. He could require employers to keep numerous additional records and make regular reports. He could subject the employer to a host of arbi-trary rulings which would take from the employer much of his right to manage his own place of business.
The Labor Commissioner would, in brief, become a virtual dictator whose day-to-day whims could decide the fate of workers, businessmen, farmers and industrialists. There is no place in Arkansas for a dictator with such far-reaching power!

Rheumatic Pains Common This Time of Year
This is the time of year when so many are badly crippled by a sudden "catch in the back" upon twisting or lifting. This can prove to be very painful especially upon exertion. This condition may be due to a present injury or from one which may have occurred many years before. This "catch" will more than likely reoccur periodically unless the cause is removed.
The pain is generally referred to as rheumatic neuritis,
and is caused by highly inflamed and irritated nerves, caused by a misaligned vertebra in most cases. If the condition is of long standing degeneration of the nerve itself may have taken place. Scientific Chiropractic adjustments will remove the cause, therefore are very beneficial in cases of this nature.

Khrushchev is under arrest. Gen. Georgi K. Zhukov, the former defense minister, was reported appointed state president in the coup said to have taken place at 4 a.m.

There was no hint where the rumors originated.

Monitoring services of the British Broadcasting Corp. reported Moscow radio transmissions normal. British government sources said they have heard no whispers whatsoever of any Soviet government changes.

The speculation came as leaders of the Communist world began assembling in Moscow for celebrations Monday marking the 43rd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. After those festivities the Red leaders are getting down to discussions on differences that have arisen over ideological strategy between the Soviet and Red Chinese governments.

Correspondents in Moscow reported that capital normal with no signs of any governmental upheaval. Westerners in the Soviet capital have, however, noted signs of discontent in high places with the way Premier Khrushchev has handled relations with the United States.

Khrushchev himself is thought to be out of Moscow; diplomats said in London. He told a British trade union chief, Frank Cousins, on Oct. 28 he was about to go off to the Black Sea for a few days vacation.

Malenkov, who succeeded Joseph Stalin as premier in 1953, was banished to management of a power station after being ejected from the government in 1957.

Zhukov was expelled from the government and the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party in late 1957.

One leading personality of the "anti-party" group which was ousted from office by Khrushchev is presently living in Vienna. He is former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, now permanent Soviet delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency.

A spokesman of the Soviet delegation here said today: "Molotov does not meet the press."

Asked about the rumors, an editor in the local office of Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said: "We certainly have not heard anything of the kind from Moscow."

A Soviet Embassy official said: "We know of nothing. Moscow has not informed us of anything."

Efforts to track down the source of the report have been fruitless.

In Washington officials said privately they were "very skeptical"

by Mrs. Gus Haynes.

Mrs. Frank Ward brought an interesting program on building permanent flower beds and facts on native wild flowers.

A Thanksgiving centerpiece for a dining table was the type of arrangement brought by Mrs. John Randolph, Mrs. Jim James and Mrs. Steve Carrigan Jr.

For refreshments coffee and cake were served to 10.

DOROTHY DIX

Should She Give Up Son For Husband

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am going out of my mind. I was married at 14, had three children and divorced at 18. I supported my family for five years then married a man with two boys the age of my sons. At first we got along well. Then my husband began to drink. I was so lonely with the children. My oldest boy was self-willed and would question what he thought wasn't fair. That caused friction. He started getting in trouble and failing at school. My husband sent him to boarding school.

Next to go was my in-between boy. He had always been a quiet child till the oldest one left. He is now in another state with his own father whom I located through his aunt. Fortunately, he was more than happy to take this son. Now my husband has started in on the youngest. He had rheumatic fever and is small for his age. My husband takes the side of his sons against mine. His sons lie. They ran away three times last summer. My husband blames me.

When his oldest son hit my youngest in the head with a baseball, but he punished my boy for not watching out. I left him but he begged and pleaded till I finally returned. It's the same old story. He says I have a choice. Turn my youngest out and forget I had these three boys or take the three and leave. I don't want another divorce. Please help me.

Dear W.: The root of your problem is your husband's jealousy of your sons by another man. Jealousy, being born of emotion not reason, is difficult to cope with. However, knowing the cause helps.

Who holds first place in your affections, your sons or your husband? The boys will soon be grown and branching out into lives of their own. The youngest should be your chief concern. If your step-sons are as inhuman as you paint them, then the little boy should not be placed at their mercy. But are they really bad? Could it be that you too are motivated by jealousy—jealousy of the woman who bore your husband these sons?

You and your husband should both do some soul-searching. Whatever decision you make affects the lives of five children.

Dear Helen:

As a girl of 18 your column appeals to me a great deal. I'm in love with a boy and he with me. We went together two years and were happy until his family got the idea that they were better than I. His sister makes trouble between us.

He is 20 and a sophomore at college. I am a senior. We planned to marry after I got out of school. But we haven't been going together lately because his family won't let him have the car. He got tired of their treatment and told me to get another boy friend. Will you answer the following questions: (1) How can I or "completely skeptical" of the rumors.

Information available in the U.S. capital was that radio and other communications between Moscow and the outside world were operating normally and there was no evidence of any abnormal developments.

One informant said it is impossible to rule out completely any kind of development in Moscow where so much happened in secrecy. But, he added, there has been no evidence that Khrushchev was in serious trouble even though he has engaged in a long ideological struggle with the Chinese Communists.

make his family like me? (2) Should I call him just to talk a little while? (3) What should I do about his sister telling things on me that aren't true? (4) How would you go about getting him back? I am heart-broken, sick and don't know what to do.

Dear P. S.: At the risk of spoiling love's young dream I would say the boy is a workling. If he had any spark he would see you or no car and would never, never say "Get another fellow."

As for your questions: (1) Let this come about naturally. Be your best self. (2) No. The boy should always take the initiative. (3) Ignore the gossip. If you do, it will boomerang back to the sister. (4) Be independent. Let him look you up.

I wrote you once when I was in senior high. Your answer helped me. Now I've been married two years. For the first 10 months I was very happy. A few weeks after our son was born we had our first fight. My husband kicked me out of bed onto the floor. Ever since we've not been getting along.

Fights between us can start from nothing. I have talked things over with his Mom. I don't think my husband would cooperate if she did talk to him.

Two months ago he let my brother and one of his girl friends into our apartment. I had gone to my mother's but came home unexpectedly. My husband told me if I said anything he would give me the beating of my life.

I am 20, he 27. He bought a new car with the $500 we saved toward a home—part of which was my money. We live in a run-down project. My husband says he loves me. I can take him or leave him. I would appreciate any advice. —Need Help

P. S.: If a divorce should come, is there any chance of a happy marriage the second time? I say this because there is someone who is very dear to me and has been for a long time.

Dear Need Help: Both you and your husband need to grow up. With marriage comes responsibilities which apparently he hasn't assumed and which you are on the verge of abandoning. As I've often said, marriage (as well as life) is like a Spanish inn, as you find in it what you take to it.

It can only be happy if you make it so. The shadow of this other man clouds yours. Put self aside and think of what is best for your baby.

Dear Helen:

I am 18 and had an affair with a married man a year ago. We just couldn't stop seeing each other. I didn't care then what happened. Now, what should I tell my husband-to-be when we get engaged? No one knows. But my mother has heard rumors. She doesn't believe them. —L. D.

Dear L. D.: Lock the secret in your heart. What is done is done.

the problems facing Pine Bluff and possible solutions for them.

A series of the conferences are being held under sponsorship of the National Home Builders Association.

The meeting here was described as the first of its type to be held in a city of Pine Bluff's population range and the 13th in the United States.

Subjects included on the agenda were land-use planning, subdivision regulations, sanitary sewers, storm drainage and a port authority.

Special invitations to the meeting were issued to mayors of south-east Arkansas towns.

of city and suburban appearances. Eisenhower in a whirling, howling stampede, fully overflowed New York's 6,000-seat Coliseum Wednesday night.

But the high expectations of Nixon's supporters that the President would direct, withering political thrusts at Sen. John F. Kennedy were only partly realized.

Without naming him, Eisenhower did criticize Kennedy as one who is "boasting American strength" in the military and economic fields. Also without naming him, the President fired some shafts at a Kennedy supporter, former President Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower said that when he came into office in 1953 the United States was at war in Korea. He left out of his nationally televised speech the adjective "senseless" which he had used to describe the conflict in remarks he had prepared in advance.

"We were weak because the government had cut back our armed forces to their lowest ebb since the beginning of World War I," leaving Korea "undefeated," Eisenhower said.

In the period immediately preceding the outbreak of Korean hostilities, Truman called Eisenhower in for consultation on the defense budget. The five-star general recommended a $600-million increase which was voted by Congress.

In an indirect answer to Kennedy's contention that the United States has been losing prestige in the world, Eisenhower told the crowd constantly applauding crowd that the number of those who feel annually from Communist-controlled countries is measured in the hundreds of thousands.

"And I point out that when people risk everything, including their lives, for the chance to join the on freedom's side of the Iron Curtain, there is no question in their minds about American prestige," he said.

All of this was music to the ears of Nixon and Lodge. But there was obvious disappointment in the Republican camp that the President had not seen fit to tear into Kennedy with some of the zeal he displayed for this role in a nationally televised speech last week.

Smackover in an effort to sew up the Region 4AA high school football championship.

The Camden - Smackover bout steals the spotlight from the Big Nine Conference this week, since the Big Nine has only one game involving a contender-and leader Little Rock Central is heavily favored to beat North Little Rock.

Camden has a 4-0 record and a victory over Smackover would mean the title. Even with one game left, with Magnolia, Camden would be out of reach of everyone except Fairview (3-1) and Camden beat Fairview, 19-6.

The leaders in the other Class AA regions take on non-conference foes. Rogers, which already has sewed up the IAA title, meets Berryville.

Stuttgart begins a three-game countdown to the 2AA title against Marianna. Only Newport and Piggott will remain on the Ricebird conference schedule, and neither presents a serious threat.

Conway, the 4AA pace-setter, goes against Hope tonight but may be looking ahead to next week's Region showdown with Benton.

Conway is unbeaten in conference play and Benton has one loss. Two other Big Nine games are scheduled tonight. El Dorado and Fort Smith are heavy favorites.

The Wildcats play host to Blytheville and Fort Smith journeys to Hot Springs for a game with the important Trojans.

Fine Bluff's Zebras, who meet Little Rock Central next week in a vital Big Nine game, take on Crossett tonight in a non-conference affair. And Texarkana plays host to Idabel, Okla.

Bobcats Make Long Trip to Conway

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Tonight the Hope Bobcats travel to Conway to play the Wampus Cats, one of the top AA teams in the state. Conway celebrates their homecoming tonight, and after the pre-game show will be the kickoff at 8 p.m. This will be the fourth homecoming game, which the Bobcats have played in this year.

When this Hope-Conway series started the Bobcats traveled up here and beat them 14-6. Then last year when Conway had one of their better teams, they were turned back here by the score of 13-6. It was heard said this summer by a Conway player that the Wampus Cats had rather beat Hope this year than any other team on their schedule. This may well be true, since tonight is their homecoming and Hope has beaten them for the past two years. Conway certainly has one of their best teams in years.

In pre-season predictions, Conway was rated 12th in AA ball, presently they are first in district 3AA, 6th in the state and 4th in AA ball.

Probably the main reason for the success of the Wampus Cats this year is their right halfback James Turner. Last year Turner was the leading scorer in all four of the AA districts. Another of the big Conway backs is Don Hester, the 185-pound FB, who runs low and hard and is always good for a few yards. Leading the Conway line would have to be their hard rushing LE, Joe Young a 180 pounder. Other leading linemen for Conway are the tackles, Steve Smith and Gary Standefer, and the center, also a 180 pounder, Jimmy Dickerson.

The Conway squad has been winning games this year by impressive scores such as 41-7, 37-7, 25-0 and 33-26. The seven wins in Conway's record of 7-0 have been over Searcy, Jacksonville, Catholic High, Malvern, Russellville, North Little Rock and Van Buren. The Wampus Cats have 211 points to their opponents 60.

The Bobcats seem to be up for this game somewhat, and they will probably give Conway a hard time tonight. Charles Dudley and Ford Ward will alternate in the FB position left vacant by Joe Malt Herndon, who was injured last week. Captain Phillip Gilliam will be playing probably only on defense with Kendall Yocom filling in on offense. Guy Watkins will take Yocom's place at left guard.

6 Unbeaten Grid Records Go on Line

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Six major college football powers put their perfect records up for show Saturday and no matter how they roll the dice it will come up no higher than "five" when the action is completed.

That's because Iowa and Minnesota, two unbeaten-until-today teams, meet head-on at Minneapolis in the big game of the day. Each is 6-0.

Missouri, Navy, Yale and Utah State also will be seeking to protect unmarred slates. New Mexico State, the seventh team with zeros in the lost and tied columns, is idle.

Iowa has knocked off the Gophers five times in succession. Yet, the top-ranked Hawkeyes are rated no better than one-point favorites to win the Big Ten battle.

Third-ranked Minnesota has yielded only 31 points, while Iowa's opponents have scored 49. The Hawkeyes have piled up 161 points to Minnesota's 154.

Missouri (7-0) is favored by two touchdowns over Colorado in an important Big Eight game. Colorado has won five in a row since an opening loss to Baylor. However, the second-ranked Tigers have yet to give up more than one touchdown in any game this season. They've held their opponents scoreless in three games.

Duke is expected to give Navy considerable trouble. The Blue Devils have lost only to Michigan while recording five victories. The Middles, despite their 7-0 record and the presence of powerful Joe Bellino in their lineup, are favored by only a single point.

Yale, deadlocked with Princeton for the Ivy League lead, is in two-touchdown choice to down Pennsylvania (2-4). The Elis (6-0) rolled over Dartmouth 29-0 last week. Penn has not scored in its Tech 20-0.

TRIAL BY SLANDER

THE STORY: Slowly Janet Hamilton is recovering from the shock of her husband's death. With two children to support, Janet enrolls in night school to obtain a teaching certificate, and she has attended a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gene Grey, close friends. After Janet leaves the guests discuss Janet.

CHAPTER V
A woman in champagne-colored satin wrapped her mink stole lovingly around her shoulders and said, "It would be hard for Janet to find another husband even though she obviously gets along with men better than women. She's attractive, but she certainly doesn't have any sex appeal. Come on Hank. We've got to leave."
Gene, shivering slightly, closed the front door behind him and crossed over to the bar. "Who has no sex appeal?"
"Janet."
"Are you kidding?" Gene's eyebrows shot up and the bottle he held was suspended in mid-air. "I couldn't disagree more."
Frank Lyman got up and held his glass to Gene to be refilled.

SEE! THE GREATEST SHOW ON WORTH!

MEASURABLY NEW, IMMEASURABLY NICE! '61 CHEVY Open the door to a whole new measure of your money's worth! There's more entrance space in this '61 to make getting in and out easier. More rear foot room for the man in the middle. Seats that are as much as 14% higher. A tremendously spacious new kind of deep-well trunk that opens at bumper level for easy, short-lift loading. But look—there's actually less outer space, leaving extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering! Neat trick? Bless our ingenious designers. They've shaped spacious dimensions, thrift and dependability into the most sensationally sensible car you could buy.

Children's Colony Asks $825,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council may vote today on whether to refer a proposed budget increase for the Arkansas Children's Colony at Conway to the Legislature in January.
The Colony's board of directors has asked for $825,000 for the 1961-62 fiscal year to provide pay raises for several employees and salaries for 171 new employees in a planned expansion.
Gov. Orval E. Faubus recommended an $800,000 budget to the council. But Wednesday the increase met opposition in a council hearing and it appeared that the budget might be in for a cut.
Legislative Council chairman Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perry County and several other members questioned the need for the new employees and the pay raises of from $300 to $600 more than asked by other state agencies.
David B. Ray Jr., Colony superintendent, said the new employees were needed because the colony is still expanding. It now cares for 256 mentally retarded children and will have room for 412 when new buildings are finished July 1, 1961.
The colony spent $279,628 during the 1959-60 fiscal year.
The council Wednesday approved over one-third more money than recommended by Faubus for the state's 76 soft conservation districts. The districts build dams and other land structures to keep soil from washing away.
They asked for $152,000 a year. Faubus cut the request to $1,200, and the council restored it to the original figure.
coming hot, and she had difficulty breathing. She stared hard at the next card; there was no doubt about it, line "A" was longer.
Dr. Whiting paused. "Mrs. Hamilton," he said, "have you ever had any trouble with your eyesight?"
"Not that I know of," Janet answered.
(To Be Continued)

Today county and city government is a big business—an important business to you as a citizen. Amendment No. 50 seeks to adjust the 1874 Constitution to TODAY'S NEEDS.

VOTE FOR AMENDMENT 50

Amendment No. 50 DOES NOT increase salaries of your county and city officials—that will be left up to the citizens of your county to decide. Amendment No. 50 sets a limit beyond which salaries cannot be raised. Some counties undoubtedly won't raise salaries. These won't be affected at all. Other counties have expressed a strong desire to raise salaries in certain offices where the responsibility and duties far overshadow the pay.
The Federal government keeps moving in—your county is the last stronghold of local government. Vote FOR AMENDMENT NO. 50 to protect that local government.
